wood burning space heater efficiency the Ardent Energy way

Ardent Energy wood space heaters easily remove the chills from large open areas, such as home basements, rec rooms, detached shops and garages. Turn your cold, chilly space into a warm, inviting atmosphere with an Ardent Energy wood space heater. Contact your dealer today for more information.

With Ardent Energy space heaters, you're putting the ultimate in woodburning science to work. Ardent Energy heaters burn one load of wood for 8 to 36 hours, while controlling the temperature in your home to within one degree.

We call that efficiency, plain and simple.

How it works

- 1) Self-adjusting air intake provides precise burn control.
- 2) Incoming oxygen is preheated for better combustion.
- 3) Primary air is evenly distributed on both sides of the firebox.
- 4) Downdraft baffle forces smoke through the hot coals for a more complete burn and less creosote.
- 5) Secondary air burns flue gases.
- 6) Firebrick maintains a hotter fire and protects the sides of the heater.
- 7) Bypass damper allows quick warm-up and reduces smoke when loading wood.
- 8) Self-aligning centre-push door provides a tight seal.
- 9) Door insulation prolongs door life.
- 10) Heavy-duty top can be used for cooking.
